

Bolidt adds colour to Eindhoven University

Crusty rolls, soup, croissants, savoury and sweet fillings, fresh salads, fruit. Deliciously inviting for hungry people, but how enjoyable is it really when your catering area is lacking the right atmosphere? For the Internal Affairs Department of Eindhoven University of Technology the answer to this question brought about a rigorous upgrade in the quality of their catering.

The upgrade included a change of flooring in the Auditorium hall. Besides a uniformly coloured surface, this also involved the use of prints. This flooring was completely developed, produced and applied by Bolidt. To achieve the intended result Bolidt used Bolidtop® Print, part of the Bolidtop® Design series. This series is based on creating experience and emotion. Accordingly, Bolidtop Print offers almost limitless possibilities in colour and design. It is a flooring system, in which pictures can be seamlessly incorporated in the synthetic floor finish by means of a special kind of digital printing technique and a selection of exotic synthetic resins. The technique allows any desired image or photograph to be incorporated in the floor.
